Dealers, It's time to start planning for Havoc XXVIII March 23rd – 25th, 2012

Havoc XXVIII will be held on March 23-25, 2012 at the Maironis Park in Shrewsbury MA. Long recognized as one of the Northeast's leading miniatures convention, Havoc will once again feature high quality games, displays and tournaments.

For current information check the Havoc website at Havoc.BattleGroupBoston.org

We continue to work hard to increase awareness of Havoc and plan to make it bigger, better and more attractive than ever before. Based on the positive reaction we received from past conventions, the dealer area will once again be in the upstairs main gaming area so that dealer's displays will have better exposure and lighting.

As always, visitors to HAVOC are free to wander around and check out the games being run and visit the dealers.

Dealer spaces, approximately 10'x10', will again just cost $90 for the weekend. Reservations for dealer spaces must be accompanied by payment in full for the dealer space(s) being reserved. Upon receipt of the reservation and payment, our Dealer Coordinator will contact you to inform you of the dealer spaces still available, and determine which space you would like to reserve. While every effort will be made to accommodate your wishes, dealer spaces will be assigned on a "First Come First Served" basis.

Payment may be made by either check, payable to BGBoston, Inc and mailed to the Dealer Coordinator or online by using PayPal (www.paypal.com) with payment made to BGB_Havoc@comcast.net.

The Havoc website includes a Dealers page and links for all of the dealers for which we have that information. Please check it out and let us know if any of your information needs updating. Dealers not attending Havoc will be added to our Dealers page just by asking. If you have a website, we would also appreciate it if you can add a link to Havoc in an appropriate place.

In order to make this upcoming Havoc a success for us and for our dealers, we would appreciate your assistance in the following areas:

- Please post our Havoc flyers in your store, downloadable from our website (<http://havoc.battlegroupboston.org/dealerinfo.php>) or if you prefer, we will deliver some to you.
- Please mention the Havoc Convention in any mailings you send to your customers
- Please run a game at Havoc highlighting the merchandise that you sell
- Please donate prizes for appropriate games run at Havoc
- Make sure to have your Massachusetts tax number handy when selling items at the convention. We haven't had any problems, but have heard of small conventions in other states being "raided" by hard-up state governments.

Any company providing prizes will be credited as a sponsor on our website. If you attend Havoc as a dealer and run a game, we will make sure you get a game table as close to your dealer space as is possible.

Please do not hesitate to contact us if you have any questions or suggestions.
